The massive blooms grow without forcing 10-12 inches all season. In color it is a soft golden orange, very clear and pleasing. Centers are always tightly closed; even at the end of the season and when the blooms are fully opened. The bush grows normally 4-4½ feet high with spreading, vigorous growth. The blooms are held facing. The clumps are large and always winter in perfect condition. One of the best- 1942

Prof. C. M. Brown says, "Columbia, at East Liverpool was the finest all around large flower I ever saw. Never have I seen such depth. It should sweep the country." Mr. Gordon F. Waaser says, "I have grown a great many large specimen blooms but Columbia gave me my greatest thrill and the largest bloom I ever grew, a true 15½ x 10 in. without any forcing.
